

45th ANNUAL HEALTH LAW PROFESSORS CONFERENCE

Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law
Arizona State University
111 E. Taylor Street
Phoenix, Arizona 85004

Agenda

Draft as April 5, 2022

Welcome to the 45th Annual ASLME Health Law Professors Conference at the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law, Arizona State University (ASU), in Phoenix from Wednesday, June 1 – Friday, June 3, 2022. With over 175 speakers from 120+ institutions, ASU Law is honored to host this conference for the second time (previously in 2012). During your visit to the Valley of the Sun, we invite you to dress business casual for the duration of the event to maximize your comfort during early summer conditions.

Special thanks to our Platinum & Gold Level conference sponsors:

Wednesday, June 1, 2022

3:45-5:45 pm Jay Healey Health Teaching Session – Looking Forward: How To Bring Energy, Engagement, Science & Humanity to Health Law Teaching [Room 544]

As we come together again in person after two long years, join us for a collaborative dialogue around questions that matter to our teaching, our world, and our lives. How do we renew our passion, energy, and creativity for teaching? How do we teach the ever-increasing interdisciplinarity of health law in a time of scientific skepticism and pessimism? What have we learned about compassion in reaching and teaching students and taking care of ourselves? This plenary session uses small-group conversations to share our collective knowledge, build relationships, and shape our futures as individuals and as a community of health law professors. This session is for everyone—new teachers, mid-career, and experienced.
