

Jesse Bernard Shedd graduated summa cum laude from Barrett, the Honors College, at Arizona State University with a Bachelors of Arts in Anthropology. During his undergraduate degree, Jesse served as special assistant to Dr. Erik Fisher's Socio-technical Integration Research project and held research internships at the Consortium of Science, Policy, and Outcomes and the Center for Games and Impact.

As a senior at ASU, Jesse composed an original honors thesis on Anticipatory Gaming, in which he examined how video games can inform the anticipatory governance process through a case study on Deus Ex: Human Revolution. Jesse plans to pursue a Masters in Digital Media.
