Melanie Swan is a philosopher focused on the impact of emerging biotechnologies on our future and well-being. Her research interests include cognitive enhancement, nanotechnology, synthetic biology, anti-aging technologies, and big data. She is affiliated with Kingston University London, Singularity University, and University Paris 8.